

REFORM WITH A VENGEANCE.*ONE ADMITTED TO NEW HAVEN TRAINS WITHOUT TICKET OR PASS.

Ladies and Children Have to Find the Trains Themselves and Carry Their Own Luggage.—The Railroad Refuse to Accept Responsibility of Accidents.

The management of the Grand Central Station and Harlem line did not content itself with making the changes suggested by the State Railroad Commissioners for improving the safety of the tunnel and the dispatching of trains. Various other reforms have been made, and one of them has greatly increased the travelling public who have to use the trains of the three roads that enter the Grand Central Station. There has been loud complaint about the master.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad has issued an edict prohibiting anybody from passing through the door of the waiting room to the trains unless he has a ticket or a pass from a general officer. A gentleman who accompanies a lady late at night to help her on to the train with a baby and a stroller or two is stopped at the door and compelled to take leave of her there. She may find her way to the train with all her luggage as best she can. It is a solicitous father who wants to see his 14-year-old daughter safely on the train for Mount Vernon, he must leave her at the door, and take it for granted that she finds the right one of half a dozen trains. He has no opportunity to speak to the conductor and ask him to keep an eye on the child, and if he does, the train comes along and the girl is away. The trainmen do not think that the woman was a friend of the child because she followed the latter into the train and sat down with her. The results of this are the possible disagreeable results of the aforesaid reform.

The New York Central and Hudson roads allow exceptions to be made to the above, but the term "exception" is the same. All the orders were issued by General Manager C. H. Platt, who has sole charge of the Grand Central Station and the Hudson road as far as 150 miles east of New Haven on the Hudson line.

Mr. Platt was appointed by and received his orders from the chiefs of the three roads, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Charles C. Dowdaw, and Charles D. Jackson, to take charge of the New York Central control of the station, but the advantage is that any fault in the terminal management can be shifted from that company to another, and equally the responsibility is equally advantageous to the New Haven company, which as a corporation has nothing to do with the management of the New York Central.

The New York Central disowns responsibility for the management of the terminal property, while the New Haven company does not.

The New Haven company has adopted unanimously the New York Central plan of control, and the term "control" is the same.

Funeral services will be held at her late residence, 108 Atlantic av., on Friday afternoon, when funeral services will be held on Tuesday, April 9.

At a meeting of the New Haven chapter, held April 4, the following resolutions were adopted unanimously:

Whereas, It has been presented to the notice of the New Haven chapter that the reverend and respected mother of Mr. W. H. Bonnell-Averill has departed this life; therefore be it resolved, That this New Haven chapter hereby sends to the reverend and respected mother of Mr. W. H.
